DESTRUCTION OF THE U. S. S. MAINE

COMMEMORATED BY VETERANS OF TWO WARS.

Services at Havana—Old Wreck Is Decorated With Flowers and Other Things.

URGE THAT WRECK BE RAISED.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Veterans of two wars remembered the Maine at the Arlington national cemetery today where lie 160 victims of the battleship, destroyed at Havana twelve years ago. Admiral Sigsby, who commanded the ship, said:

"I view these commemorative meetings gratefully. The burden of the Maine rests heavily upon me with advancing years in ways known only to myself. To Father Chetwick and myself come saddening evidences of widespread misery consequent on her awful destruction."

Samuel R. Vansant, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, spoke of the Maine disaster and the Spanish war as the greatest influence in rebuilding the country since it was riven by the civil war. Col. J. Walter Mitchell, departmental commander of the Army and Navy Union, demanded that congress appropriate funds for raising the wreck.

At Havana.

Havana, Feb. 15.—The twelfth anniversary of the destruction of the Maine was observed today more elaborately than any previous anniversary. A fleet of tugs and yachts bearing the newly organized Havana camp, United Spanish War Veterans, Daughters of the American Revolution, American legation, consular officers, representatives of the Cuban government and hundreds of tourists and American residents, surrounded the wreck. The service of the dead was read by Protestant Episcopal Bishop Knight.

A bronze tablet from the Daughters of the American Revolution, a floral medallion from the Spanish war veterans, a wreath from President Gomez, and many other tributes were affixed to the wreck. Addresses were made by Major Hale and Colonel Gibson, both of Boston, commander-in-chief and past commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans. All speeches earnestly expressed the wish that before the next anniversary the wreck will be removed, the dead with it, and laid to rest on American soil.

CABINET NAMED

WINSTON S. CHURCHILL IS HOME
SECRETARY.

Premier Asquith Decided to Make
Only the Absolutely Necessary
Changes in England.

London, Feb. 16.—The following cabinet appointments were announced:

Secretary for the Home Department—Winston Spencer Churchill.
President of the Board of Trade—Sydney Buxton.

Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster—J. A. Pease.

Postmaster General—Herbert Louis Samuel.
J. A. Pease, who was the chief Liberal whip, was defeated at the general election, but it is expected that a safe seat will be found for him in Lancashire. Herbert Louis Samuel is under secretary of state for the home office.

The cabinet held an unusually long sitting yesterday afternoon, and its business was still unfinished when adjournment was taken until morning. The changes in the cabinet are fewer than had been expected.

Premier Asquith apparently decided, owing to the uncertainty of the political outlook, to make only the absolutely necessary appointments, and those which have been made being only transfers from one office to another, will not involve any by-elections except in the case of Mr. Pease, for whom a safe seat must be found.

Do farmers eat the proper sort of food?

The farmer of today buys a much larger proportion of the food that goes on the table than he did ten years ago. It's a good thing that this is so because he has a great variety to select from. He should, however, use great care in selecting for the best results in health and strength.

The widespread tendency in the city to increase the amount of Quaker Oats eaten is due very largely to the recent demonstrations by scientific men that the Quaker Oats fed man is the man with greatest physical endurance and greatest mental vigor.

Farmers should give this subject careful thought and should increase the quantity of Quaker Oats eaten by themselves, their children and the farm hands.
